TOWN COUNCIL.

The first meeting of the council for three weeks was held Tuesday. Present: the mayor, Coates, Brown, McLeod, Goodridge, and Jackson. Also town solicitor Beck. T. A. Stephens was acting clerk.

A letter was read from Frank Oliver, M. P., as follows:

"I have been requested by the department of justice to secure the recommendation of a suitable site for the court house which it is proposed to build at Edmonton. Kindly let me have your official recommendation."

The question was referred to town hall and market committee to look into and report next meeting.

Report of a copy of the liquor ordinance and amendment was acknowledged.

Two letters regarding the visit of Lord and Lady Minto, already published were filed.

Requests of chief of police and secretary-treasurer for leave of absence were granted, requests having already been granted.

A letter was read from the solicitor regarding the blocking of the street between River street and Cliff street, River Lot 12. The solicitor advised that the matter had been referred to the judge for adjustment.

A copy of amendments of municipal ordinance was received from John A. Reid, and acknowledged.

Short & Cross, for D. R. Fraser & Co., wrote in regard to the same matter as the solicitor, asking that the blockade of the road be stopped at once. As pending the decision of the judge, no action could be taken by the town, their letter was filed.

F. T. Fisher, manager H. B. Co., drew the council's attention to the condition of Main street at the crossing of Third street. The chairman of the board of works reported that the quagmire had been filled, and the letter was filed.

Three letters were read from different brokers in the States asking for a chance to buy some of the town's debentures.

Mrs. Fagerie, in reply to her request for rebate of taxes, was informed that if $55 were paid before the tax sale she would receive a full receipt to end of '97.

Ross Bros. wrote asking when they might expect payment of their account for iron pipe supplied in June, for the water tank. Considerable discussion ensued. It appeared that there was a difference in amount of pipe supplied. It was decided to tender Ross Bros. a cheque for the value of the pipe shown by actual measurement to be in use in the plant.

A petition was read, signed by 126 ratepayers asking that the grant of $1,000 to the new public hospital be paid over to the directors at once. After consideration, the former motion of the council of several meetings ago was rescinded and another substituted to the effect that three-quarters of a mill be added on the general taxation rate and that $900 be granted and paid over to the hospital.

Property holders on Second street petitioned that a six foot sidewalk be placed on the west side of said street between Jasper avenue and Victoria avenue, and a six foot walk on the east side from Jasper avenue south to the south end of lot 74. The petition was referred to the board of works for report next meeting.

Coun. Brown, chairman of the fire hall and market committee, reported in favor of paying $50 for the fence now on the market site, and suggested that this be removed, and a lane crossing be put in at each end of the lane. Scales for the market are expected any time. The offer was accepted and the report will be acted upon.

It was ordered that the following accounts be paid:

|                     |         |
|---------------------|---------|
| Street labor,       | $ 8.25 |
| License and police, | 13.70   |
| Geo. West,          | 2.75    |
| D. R. Fraser & Co., | 665.09  |
| Jas. McDonald,      | 304.54  |
| Carter & McCallum,  | 16.00   |
| W. H. Clarke,       | 1.50    |
| J. D. McDonald,     | 1.00    |

The council then adjourned.

It is understood that Mr. John Ross Robertson has reconsidered his intention of dropping out of politics on the dissolution of parliament. Mr. Robertson was elected as an independent conservative in 1896, but his strong stand against liberal corruption, and his absolute integrity which has characterized his course in parliament, has ingratiated him with the old line conservatives, and with the old line liberals as well. If Mr. Robertson consents to run, as seems probable, he will not be opposed by the conservative organization.—Mail and Empire.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

On Wednesday morning Mr. A. E. Jamieson, who has been in the office of Dr. Goodwin for the past two years left for Toronto, where he will take a college course in dentistry. On the evening previous to his departure the young people of the Methodist church, with which he has been connected, met at the home of H. C. Taylor and presented Mr. Jamieson with a purse containing a considerable sum of money, accompanied by the following address:

Mr. A. E. Jamieson.

Dear Sir: On this, the eve of your departure for the east to complete at its institutions of learning and amid the superior advantages there offered, the members of the Epworth League of the Edmonton Methodist church, and your associates in social life, desire to convey to you our sense of the loss we sustain by your departure.

During your residence in our midst you have been a pillar to our League and church, and we have learned to admire and emulate your consistency of walk and conversation, while appreciating also the social qualities which have awakened esteem and regard in a wide circle of friends.

We would express for well our hopes for your future prosperity. It is our deepest wish that to you may be given, both in your college course and in the more distant arena of professional life in which you will subsequently strive, all the success which you are capable of, without endangering those higher interests which should be the first object of regard in the mind of every man, and we trust that all along the now hidden pathway of your future life you may have the comforting sense of the guiding eye and sustaining arm of our Father.

In asking you to accept this purse, we do so trusting that it will unite with our words in conveying to you the sense of the high esteem in which you are held by us and of the sincerity of the "God speed," with which we bid you farewell.

Signed on behalf of the League:
A. E. GOODWIN,
President.

SOUTHERN ALBERTA LIBERALS.

MacLeod, Sept. 13.—A large number of prominent liberals from outside points met in MacLeod on Thursday last week. The business which had brought them together was the organization of the Southern Alberta Liberal association and the election of a vice-president for the Alberta association, an organization which has its headquarters in Calgary.

Five delegates from each of the undermentioned places presented themselves to the meeting: Lethbridge, Dr. De Veber, C. J. Atkinson, J. Bodie, C. N. Higginbotham, J. Henderson, C. J. P. Lewis, R. Ramsbottom, Dr. Brant, S. J. Layton, Sam. Matkins, Fincher Creek, J. H. Schofield, F. Wilcock, F. G. Gill, T. H. Hinton, E. Varley, MacLeod, M. McKenzie, C. Genge, W. Gardiner, R. K. Kennefick, A. F. Grady, Dr. Forbes, chairman.

It was moved by Dr. De Veber, seconded by Mr. Schofield, that we form ourselves into an association to be called the Southern Alberta Liberal Association.

This was carried as was also the motion that the officers be president and secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Atkinson nominated Mr. McKenzie as vice-president of the Alberta liberal association. Dr. Brant seconded the nomination, which carried unanimously. Mr. McKenzie thanked the meeting for the honor conferred upon him, stating that he would do his utmost to fill the responsible position to which he had been elected. Mr. A. F. Grady was elected secretary-treasurer.

The secretary-treasurer was requested to write to Mr. Oliver requesting him to give the association the dates on which he proposed holding meetings in the district.

The president, secretary and Mr. De Veber and Atkins were appointed a committee to draft by-laws to be submitted at the next meeting.

The meeting then adjourned with cheers for the Queen, government and Frank Oliver, M. P.

LET'S WE FORGET.

Those who are inclined to doubt the possibility of good government from within the Transvaal may gain some confidence by remembering that it is not so very long since all that has been said to the discredit of the Boer and his government, and much more, was true to the Briton. There are Englishmen still living who can remember when members were returned to the English parliament from an old mound or a deserted wall, and seats in parliament, where none but Protestants were permitted to sit, were regarded, to quote from the most recent political history of England, "as property which was bought and sold without disguise, the price having reference to the political market of the day and the period for which parliament had still to run." Eighty-four men, mostly peers, elected 157 members of the house of commons, and 50 constituencies, each with less than 50 voters, elected 10 other members, while Birmingham, Manchester, Leeds and other large manufacturing towns went without any representative whatever. In fact, the majority of the house of commons when William IV. ascended the throne was elected by 15,000 adult male out of a population of 3,000,000 adult males.

FRENCH SUCCESS.

London, Sept. 15.—Lord Roberts reports to the war office under date of Muehaddorp, Sept. 14, as follows: "French occupied Barberton yesterday with the cavalry, which he took across the mountains. He met slight opposition, the enemy being completely surprised. Twenty-three officers and 59 men who were taken prisoners were released, and forty-three locomotives and other rolling stock were captured. The former will relieve us of great difficulty, as we had to put up with a few rickety engines."

"French reports that he has sufficient supplies for three weeks for his horses. One hundred Boers, with many Mauser rifles and a quantity of ammunition, were captured. There are large quantities of cattle and sheep in the country, which is good news. French intercepted large convoys, showing that Barberton was used as a depot of supplies for the Boers in the south and southeast. The bulk of French's force is still 35 miles behind the cavalry owing to the difficulty of getting the wagons over the pass leading to Barberton."

HOW RICHARDSON WON THE V. C.

The following brief account has appeared of the incident in which Sergt. A. H. L. Richardson, who is with the Strathcona Horse, distinguished himself, and for which he won the Victoria Cross as reported in Monday's telegraphic despatches:

"On July 6th, Alex. McArthur, who is with Strathcona's Horse, was wounded in the arm and thigh, and his horse was shot under him by the bursting of a shell. Sergt. Richardson, of the wounded man's company, at great personal risk went back through the firing line, took McArthur from under the dead horse, and removed him to a place of safety."

Sergt. Richardson is a Battleford's quota in Strathcona's Horse.

E. F. Slocock, of Edmonton, in describing the same incident, says: "One of our men, Richardson, an ex-mountain policeman, behaved splendidly, bringing in a wounded man under a hailstorm of bullets."

GOLDEN SMITH ANSWERED.

Writing upon a topic of prime importance to Prof. Goldwin Smith, that literateur says, apropos of his recent accident, in an article published in the Toronto Sun: "If the mere fracture of a limb, with all the alleviations which first class surgery and home comforts can afford suffices to make a man an object of pity to his friends, what is to be said of the wreck of a battle field or of the agonies of a field hospital? What is to be said of the field of Omdurman, strewn with thousands of wounded men, untended and consumed by raging thirst under the African sun? Yet these are things of which journalism is teaching people to read without horror." To this the Ottawa Journal makes the following effective reply: "For every man wounded on the field of Omdurman, a dozen human beings or more had every year. For many years been mangled, tortured, outraged, or murdered by the condition of things to which Omdurman put a stop. Twenty thousand fell at Omdurman, but hundreds of thousands met more awful fates by Mahdism, which Omdurman ended, and which only an Omdurman could end."

GREAT FIELD FOR IMMIGRATION.

A. B. Owen, superintendent of the Barnardo Boys' Home, Toronto, recently made a tour through the Northwest. He gave his views in an eastern paper as follows:

"I look upon the Northwest," he said, "as the greatest field for immigration in the world at the present time. I often tell the people in England that I do not think there is any country in the world that possesses greater opportunities—a climate healthy for man and beast, fertile and a country settled with decent, law-abiding people."

"There is a great mistake made in this country in confounding these people that have been encouraged to come out under the policy of the present government with the Polish Jews and other Jewish refugees who are coming out in large numbers, but whose destination is almost invariably one of the large cities of the United States. I crossed in one ship last summer with a party of 538 of these Polish Jews, and don't think one dozen of the entire number were destined for Canadian points, they were all ticketed for New York and were handed over in a block to the railway companies and forwarded to New York in special trains. The class of people about whom there was considerable outcry three weeks ago on account of a mutiny that arose on the Elder Dempster steamer Montfort were people of Jewish descent from the United States, but these people should be confounded in no way with the Doukhobors and Galicians who have been settling in the Northwest and who are essentially agriculturists, and who so far as I have been able to observe have no disposition whatever to flock into the cities and towns."

"I would not, however, advocate the settling of these foreign nationalities in blocks. Scatter them about among other nationalities and let them see what other people are doing and by that means learn Canadian ways. Canadian methods of farming and the English language, even at the cost of some slight temporary drawbacks to the English-speaking settlers near whom they live."

THE CALGARY OUTRAGE

The following is the evidence of Eugene McLennand, of Calgary, given in the Calgary police court, in the case of robbery and attempted murder, wherein he was the victim. Geo. H. Williams, arrested as one of the would-be murderers, was charged with the crime. McLennand's sworn story of the cold-blooded affair was:

I have lived in Calgary a little over a year. I have known the defendant since August the 22nd. I first saw him at the C. P. R. station. Had a conversation with him. I did not know his name then. He told me that his name was Winters, and I saw him go away. I saw him again on the evening of the 29th at the C. P. R. station after No. 2 had gone out. I asked him if he had been back to the ranch at Macleod. I saw him again the next morning for a minute or two at the corner outside the Royal hotel. I had no conversation with him then. Saw him again about 10:30 at night at the corner of the C. P. R. station. I had on the previous evening given him two American five dollar bills for a Canadian ten dollar bill. The accused saw that I had more than $10 on Thursday night. While chatting with the accused he proposed we should go for a walk. We walked eastward to the Elbow river bridge. When at the bridge I said we had gone far enough and had better go up town. He said we might as well cross the bridge and walk round by the road. We crossed the bridge and turned to the left into the road, leading up to the town. When he got to the sidewalk he said he was thirsty and was going down to the river to get a drink. He asked me whether there was a path, this was the Bow river. This conversation took place on the sidewalk - which crosses the traffic bridge. I said there was a path and that we could go down there and get a drink. We walked down the road which leads to the Bow river until we got nearly to the bank. I was suddenly seized from behind, and thrown on my back and one of the fellows (Mr. Williams) must have been joined by another man) sat on my breast and put his hand on my mouth and eyes. One of them went through my pockets. They then turned me over on my face and tied my hands and feet and gagged me by putting something in my mouth and tying it with a piece of string. They carried me up the river a little way to where there is a clump of bushes on the bank, and threw me in the river. I floated down the stream which is very fast there and landed on the beach. They came down and caught hold of me a second time. They tied my feet again. (My feet had been tied and I had managed to get them loose) and threw me in again. I then floated down a little farther and managed to get my head out of the water. They then came down and with a rope. I think it was and threw me in the third time. This time, however, they tied my mouth, for the gag had got out and I had started to yell. The taller or the dark man made the remark to Williams: "He's got the gag out of his mouth let's run." I remember struggling in the water for a long time trying to get out. I don't remember anything more until the following day at the police station. I think my feet were tied with string, and afterwards with rope. I had $150 in my possession when this attack was made upon me - $150 in the inside pocket of my coat, $80 in my vest and some change in my trousers pocket. The $150 and the change had been taken out before I was gagged. I have no doubt but that the accused is the man, the slightest in Soules, laundryman, swore he had seen the accused talking to McLennand on the day of the attack. Stable Fraser sworn: Was on duty from 9 p. m. on Thursday to 8 a. m. on Friday. Between 1 and 2 o'clock on Friday morning met McLennand on the east side of the Elbow river. Conable Waldou was with me. McLennand was wet and his hands were tied with bootlaces (produced). There was a string in his mouth also a bootlace tied to the back of his neck. We cut the string at the back of his neck and it fell off. I thought he had been thrown in the river. He was saying to himself: "Throw him in Jack, the water's deep." He was dazed. I took him in the rig and brought him to the police station.

Mr. Sifton for the prosecution, stated that this completed the case for the prosecution. Mr. Nolan, for the accused, said that as the magistrate had no power to try the case, there would be no objection to his calling evidence for the defence. He might say, however, that he would in a few days be in a position to prove that the accused could not have been concerned in the offence as he was 600 miles away when it was committed. This could be proved to the satisfaction of a jury when the case came up.

A committee of the patriotic fund raised to receive and deal with the money on behalf of Canadian soldiers who have returned to Canada, suggested that officers and sergeants in Canada, and several of soldiers' wives leagues, be good enough to communicate at once with the secretary of the patriotic fund.

THE SCRIP COMMISSION AT ST. PAUL DE METIS

The scrip commissioners were at St. Paul de Metis on the 13th, having there issued 53 scrip with, about another 50 to be issued. Of those given out 12 were money and the balance land. The land scrip is being held very high by the half-breeds, and the buyers did not purchase. "Shot" has offered to take the commission from Lac la Biche to Athabasca Landing in a boat. Lac la Biche river is high and he says he can take them through in five days. It is probable that they will get that way. The commissioners may be back to Edmonton by the 5th October, or not later than the 12th.

Fish have been very plentiful at Lac la Biche this summer and the Indians have had all they wanted and more. Fish just as numerous as they ever were years ago. Pretty good for five years protection of a run-down lake. There is a straight road from Lac la Biche to St. Paul de Metis, by way of Floating Stone lake, the commission take that road and expect to make the trip in three days.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM SGT. KELLY

Sgt. S. A. Kelly, of Strathcona's horse, formerly of the N. W. M. P., Strathcona, writes the following interesting letter of the war. Of Spion and the relief of Ladysmith Sgt.
Kelly says:"How Buller got through is a mystery, for I don't suppose there was ever such a position fought against before in the world's history. Range after range of rocky hills, with treaches and sangars (loose rock walls) for sixteen miles front. If a line number of British had had that position no army in the world could have shifted them. All along the railway the bridges, culverts, and in some places the road itself, were blown up, and the Royal Engineers have built round for over or under all obstructions."Arriving at Newcastle, the Canadians marched to Christchurch, through Volksrust to Ingogo, where they joined Lord Dundonald's brigade.Just before the Strathcona Horse had passed the base of Majuba Hill and gone through Laing's Nek, on the way to Ingogo, a slight engagement took place between the British and the enemy, which Sgt. Kelly describes as follows: "The Boers had made or tried to make a stand at Laing's Nek, but the Royal Horse Artillery and the rest made it so hot for them that they bolted. Beyond the nek there is a long stretch of rolling prairie, or rather veldt, and the artillery chased them (the Boers) for nearly fourteen miles. They would gallop about half a mile, unharmed, and then pause, then lumber up again, and so on. They did this twenty times, and completely disorganized the whole Boer force. Of course, the mounted corps had their share of the fun. We would have been there if we had not been sent fooling around in Zululand.""The marvellous thing about the Royal Horse Artillery battery is that they have been through every battle that Buller has had and not had a man hit and only one horse shot."Ever since the Strathconas' joined Dundonald's brigade they have been "right in the very front seats," says Sgt. Kelly, and have always been "pretty well on the go."While on the march a stop was made at Washout Spruit, Sunday noon, July 1st, for dinner. "We were having something to eat," says the sergeant, "when our flanking patrol ran into some Boers in a farm house flying a white flag. They fired on our men, killing the first Strathcona, a man named Jenkins, of 'A' squadron, and killing the horse of the sergeant. The sergeant took cover behind his horse and stood there until the other scouts came up, when the Boers ran. We sent out two troops, and the Royal Horse Artillery sent a gun. Our men located a large party of Boers in a donga (coul-lee), and the gun dropped a shell into the middle of them and cleared them out. That was the Strathcona Horse's first smell of powder."On the arrival at Greylingstad, "C" squadron was sent out to forage, and when about six miles away from camp troops two and three were fired upon from a kopje. A long-range battle ensued, and though the enemy's bullets came thick and the cover was bad no one was hit."That was my first experience of being under fire. We sat there for about ten minutes, and the bullets were singing all around and over us.
I counted seven bullets that hit my ground within a couple of feet of my horse's hoofs. Not a man so much as flinched. They behaved splendidly in this rather a trying situation, and to wait for orders and could stand as the Boers were 1,000 feet on a high hill. They had range to a dot, and it is a wonder that some of us did not get hit.
The man next me had a splinter chopped off the stock of his rifle, but he merely laughed. In fact, we were all laughing and talking as if nothing was happening out of the usual. I really thought that I should be spared, when I got under fire, but really one seems to take it as a mere matter of course."The reward of Boer treachery is described as follows by Mr. Kelly: "There Boers the day before yesterday fired from a house on one of our patrols. They were taken prisoners and proved to be three men who had come in and surrendered, given up old antiquated rifles, and taken the oath to fight no more. Yesterday morning they dug their own graves, and were then politely and quietly shot."The death of the Strathconas is set out in the following paragraph:—
"The first time I had a rice witha big party of Boers for the railway station. The Maxim got to the back door first, was pulled through to the front and opened up through the door.
The Boers stood their ground well, but the little Maxim was too much for them and they broke back after losing heavily. The Maxim gunner threw his base clamps loose and used the gun like a garden hose and did a lot of damage. The Boers retired at last pretty badly done up. General Buller was there and said that the Strath-conas behaved splendidly, but were too rash in the way they pushed the enemy.""The scouting and patrolling around Greylingstad, Sgt. Kelly describes as "very hard and dangerous work, because we are continually getting sniped at, and can seldom see anything to shoot back at."The pleasures of camping in a sun-baked country like South Africa may be imagined by the Sergeant's description of himself: "I am horribly dirty.
I have not washed my face for three days or my hands for two. They (my hands) are simply black. The cause is the scarcity of water for other than drinking purposes.""I have slept in my boots for the last three nights, because we expected a night attack, which, however, never came. I tell you, campaigning is not all beer and skittles, as bad as I expected. The grub is good of its kind, though rather monotonous. But the dirt, that is the dusty dirt is awful. I really have forgotten what a bed feels like; I have slept on the ground for four months now."The weather, he says, is beautiful, though very frosty at night, this being their winter. "And we are the only outfit in the field that has not got warm underclothes and woolen khaki."Sgt. Kelly closes with the mournful statement that "we are all stone broke, as we have not been paid for over two months."

ALBERTA'S INTEREST.

The chief question of interest to the West which will arise for determination during the next Dominion parliamentary term will be the establishment of a new province. It is to the liberal party that the people of Canada generally owe the present enjoyment under the British crown, and it is to that party also that the Territories owe the self-government which they now possess. The present minister of justice, Hon. David Mills, drafted the first and providing for elective representative institutions in the West, and as a private member of parliament under the Mackenzie government he carried that act through the house. It was by the present liberal government that a fully responsible executive council, such as exists at present at Regina, was established.
It was by the liberal party that the rights of the distinct provinces of confederation were defended and secured. George Brown began the battle in 1851, when he fought to release Upper Canada from the domination of Lower Canada, and carried on the fight during the framing of the British North America act. After confederator Sir Oliver Mowat was engaged in a long but eventually successful struggle with Sir John Macdonald in defence of provincial autonomy as in fact Ontario, and in that contest he fought for the other provinces, existing on to be created, as well.
Still later Mr. Greenway and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in '96, were obliged to defend Manitoba from the unwarranted encroachments of the federal power as exercised by the Tories. All this points very clearly to the fact that Alberta's interests as a new province will be far surer in the hands of a liberal government at Ottawa than if conservatives ruled. When the new province is established we in the West desire the arrangement arrived at to be an advantageous to the independence, autonomy and financial welfare of Alberta as it possibly can be. A slight reflection on past history will show that our nearest province will have no sympathizers at Ottawa (if the Tories should by any chance be returned to power. It is inherent in Canadian loyalism to endeavor to minimize the power of the province and enhance that of the federal government. Alberta will therefore know enough to vote for a liberal member, a liberal government, and a full unrestrained provincial autonomy when the moment for the change at last arrives.

D. C. FRASER AT HANOVER.

D. C. Fraser, speaking at Hanover, was shown a pamphlet from Montreal, in which Sir Charles Tupper expressed his conviction that he was going to carry the country. "That," said the member for Guysboro, after reading the pamphlet: "That is a very mild statement, coming from the leader of the opposition." Sir Charles was not in good form, or he would not have been content with so moderate an estimate. This is how Sir Charles Tupper spoke in the last campaign. Mr. Fraser read the following extract from a speech of Sir Charles, delivered at Sydney, Cape Breton in 1896: "I am neither a prophet, or the son of a prophet, but I make the statement here and now, and I want to be judged for all future time by it, and never believed again, unless it turns out to be true.
The great liberal-conservative party will be returned triumphantly with a greater majority than they have now." "Thank," said Mr. Fraser, "is how Sir Charles speaks when he is in good form and confident of success."

WHITE PASS AND YUKON ROAD.

S. H. Graves, president of the White Pass & Yukon railroad, has left for Chicago and will then proceed direct to London."Our road is open from Skagway to White Horse," he said, at the Rainier-Grand, "and we are making the trip in six hours. The new route leaves bridge, 800 feet long, over Switchock canyon, 400 feet deep, a

THE WAR DRAWING TO AN END.

Lorenzo Marques, Sept. 12.—President Kruger arrived here last night.
Mr. Kruger obtained a formal leave of absence for six months, ostensibly to return to Europe to work for intervention. Mr. Schalkberger was appointed acting president to serve during Mr. Kruger's absence. Gen.
French has occupied Barberton.Washington, Sept. 12.—The following despatch has been received by the war department from the United States Officer, Capt. Reichman, who accompanied the Boers in their campaign as military observer:Lorenzo Marques, Sept. 11.—"Events have required the departure of the attaches from the Transvaal. I request instructions."This message is interpreted at the department to mean the complete collapse of the Boer resistance to Great Britain. Capt. Reichman has been cabled permission to start at once for the United States.

CANADIANS TO RETURN.

Ottawa, Sept. 14th.—The following cable was received to-day, dated London, Sept. 14.—Referring to your telegram of Aug. 30, the Field-Marshal, the commander-in-chief of South Africa, has been instructed to despatch from South Africa the members of the Royal Canadian Regiment not willing to extend service. They will arrive in Canada not later than October 15. In the event of a large number they will be sent direct to Canada by transport specially detailed. Otherwise they will be sent to England by transport conveying invalids. (Signed) Chamberlain.

BOERS COOLING DOWN.

Tien Tsin, September 12th, via Taku, September 13th: The expedition, under General Dordward against the Boxers threatening the Tien Tsin region reached Tu Lu, written Tz Li, on the grand canal without opposition and the city was occupied without a shot being fired. Three columns converged there yesterday after a two-day march and found that the place had already surrendered to one officer and eight Bengal lancers. General Dordward ordered the town to be burned after it had been thoroughly looted. The villages en route made peace offerings and in most cases were undisturbed. Apparently the Boxers have disbanded in that region and the whole country is quiet.READ THE

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S VISIT.

The Vice-Royal party arrived by special train at the Governor-General's private car about eleven o'clock Wednesday. The party, consisting of his Excellency the Governor-General, Lady Minto, their daughters, Lady Elsie and Lady Ruby Elliott, Capt. Graham, and secretary Sladen and Comptroller Guise, were met at the station by a delegation from the Edmonton reception committee consisting of Mayor MacKenzie, Councillors Jackson and Brown, and Messrs. J. H. Carleton and M. McCauley. M. L. A. An escort of twenty men of the Mounted Police under command of Supt. Giesbach were lined up near the station. The south town was prettily decorated with bunting and evergreens, streamers were suspended across the street and freshly cut cedars planted along the track and road at the crossing of Whyte avenue. The gala day appearance everywhere was added to by the many spectators who, stirred in holiday raiment, had gathered from many points to witness their Excellencies arrival. The train was over an hour late but the crowd was good natured and patient. At last the whistle was heard and as the special slipped into the station the Strathcona band struck up "Soldiers of the Queen." The train was brought to a standstill across Whyte avenue and reception committee representatives rushed rapidly to and fro from the car. Their Excellencies then alighted, Lady Minto and her daughters accompanied by Capt. Graham, entering the police rig and Lord Minto accompanied by his secretaries and Commissioner Perry mounting the saddle horses provided by the police escort. The day was beautiful, clear, warm and with a bright sunshine, and the drive to the bridge was quickly and pleasantly passed. At the south end of the bridge the Edmonton band met the party and escorted them up the hill, on the brow of which, in front of the public school, hundreds of citizens had gathered to welcome their distinguished visitors. The pupils of the public school were drawn up along the walk leading from the street to the school steps, and on their Excellencies' arrival the children welcomed them with cheers. As their Excellencies alighted and proceeded up the walk to the school steps from which the town's address was read, the pupils sang, "The Maple Leaf." The effect was pretty and striking, the child voices sounding very sweet as they sang their National hymn. Before reading the address a bouquet of flowers was presented to Lady Minto by Miss Neta Mercer. The address of welcome from the town, read by His Worship the Mayor, was as follows:

To the Right Honourable Sir Gilbert John Elliott Murray Kynnmound, Earl of Minto and Viscount Melgund, G. C. M. G., etc., etc., Governor-General of Canada.

Your Excellency.—The citizens of Edmonton extend to you a hearty welcome. We welcome you as the direct representative in the great Dominion of Canada of our Most Gracious Queen, and we take the opportunity that this occasion affords us of congratulating you as the executive head of our fair Dominion on the successful and happy termination of the war in South Africa, realizing as we do that it has resulted in securing for the Transvaal a full measure of just and constitutional government, and has in its course been the means of strengthening the bonds of affection between the motherland and her colonies. We welcome you too as one who has shown himself deeply, actively and intelligently interested in the welfare of the land over which Her Majesty has been pleased to place you. That interest has now brought you to what is destined to be the chief commercial city of the Northwest.

Edmonton is surrounded by immense tracts of land eminently suited for the purposes of grain growing and stock raising; the bed and banks of the Saskatchewan River, which flows before it a rich in gold and platinum; in its immediate neighborhood and stretching definitely to the north there is a wealth of minerals, gold, silver, copper, iron, lead, gypsum, asphalt, coal, petroleum, natural gas, and much more; it is the depot of a trade with the northern portions of the Territories, which places year by year upon the markets of the world great quantities of fur. These natural attractions were hardly accessible until the opening of the railway from the south in 1891. Since that date the influx of population has been unexpectedly large and has been followed by a development, the extent, permanence and assured continuance of which but few fairly estimate. It is but natural that the claims which justify follow such growth have in many instances received but tardy, if indeed any, recognition by the Dominion government; and hence we may perhaps be permitted to call Your Excellency's attention to some of these claims.

The increase of population in the districts of Alberta calls for the erection of a new judicial district, presided over by a judge resident in Edmonton, and this increase of population, together with the divergent interests of the northern and southern portions of the district have long called for its division and for an increase in the number of its representatives in the parliament of Canada.

In view of the fact that farming is and will continue to be our chief industry, we beg to call attention to the need for the establishment in this vicinity of an experimental farm. Great loss is incurred from year to year for want of such guidance as an institution of this kind provides, and as our climatic conditions are largely peculiar to this district the experience afforded by similar institutions elsewhere must necessarily be insufficient for our requirements.

Reference has been made to the mineral wealth that lies buried in the Territories. It is undoubtedly vast and rich; but its development, which would ultimately become a source of great wealth to the country at large, is instead of being encouraged and assisted by government, left to the pioneer and in his hands is burdened with exacting and unreasonable regulations and with a heavy tax in the form of license fees. In this connection we beg leave to suggest the establishment of a sub-department of government, such as elsewhere obtains, devoted solely to the subject of mines in the Northwest Territories.

Taking a wider range of view, we draw Your Excellency's attention to the urgent need of a greatly increased subsidy from the Dominion government to the Northwest Territories. Now is the Territories' growing time. Those far away do not of the growth and the consequent wants of this large domain, wants which if not filled will retard its natural development and unduly defer the time when it shall occupy the proud place it is destined yet to hold in the Dominion.

Perhaps Your Excellency may find means of acquainting yourself more fully with the subjects which we have ventured to touch upon and urge them upon the attention of your constitutional advisers.

While we have ventured to bring to Your Excellency's notice some of our more pressing needs, we by no means forget that God in his good providence has given much that calls for thankfulness. We believe and trust that Your Excellency and Lady Minto, so whom as well as yourself we beg to offer the homage of our respects, will find much to interest and delight you during the course of your journey through these fair Territories; and we know that in all parts and from all sections of this population there will flow, through Your Excellency, hearty and spontaneous expressions of loyalty to Our Sovereign and Gracious Queen.

Signed on behalf of the town of Edmonton

K. W. MacKENZIE, Mayor.

His Excellency, the Governor-General, in replying said:

Mr. Mayor and citizens of Edmonton. I cannot sufficiently thank you for the enthusiastic welcome you have given me on my first visit to Edmonton, as the representative of Her Majesty, the Queen; and I may say that I am proud to be her representative. As many of you know this is not my first visit to the Northwest, but I have never had the pleasure of coming to Edmonton. I knew of Edmonton and I knew that it was likely to be a very rising place. Now I am here. I hear on all sides of its prosperity and the prospect it has of future success, and I suppose if I did not give the school children a half holiday I could never come again.

Lady Minto and I have had a very long journey. We have been to Dawson City and through the Yukon and I am sorry to say, most of our visits have been made in a hurry, and we are obliged to push on. We would like to stay here and see more of this beautiful country, but our limited time will not permit.

I have listened to all you have to say as regards the future necessities for the district. You must not look upon me as a conjuror, I come only as a visitor and have no authority to make promises. I believe in a ruler or a deputy ruler making himself familiar with the country in which he is. In the course of my journey I have gathered much information for the government of Canada. That is all I can say, and you will understand that I cannot make promises, but I shall be very glad to say all I can on your behalf.

I can congratulate you on your great country and shall watch its development with interest.

I thank you again for the kind reception you have given to Lady Minto and myself.

The conclusion of the speech was received with cheers and applause. In the midst of which their Excellencies and party descended the steps and re-entered their conveyances, driving off amid hearty high-burrs. Escorted by the band the party drove to the mission here where another reception was accorded them; and an address read by the children of St. Joachim's school. As the visitors entered, the school a brilliant gallop was played on two pianos by Miss Gita Connelly, Miss Marie Degagne, Miss B. Beck and Miss McAllister. Then a little girl advanced and called upon the bells to ring out to welcome their Excellencies. This was heartily responded to by a suitable chorus. Five other children then recited an acrostic of the word Minto. They represented the following flowers: Mignonette, Ivy, Narcissus, Thistle, Olive. And each wore her letter on a small shield attached to a golden circle, Lady Minto was particularly pleased with this, seemed particularly pleased with this, and with charming grace she accepted the flowers offered by each little girl. The address was read in a most pleasing manner by Miss Beatrice Beck. His Excellency greatly admired the illumination of the address and thanked the pupils in his own name and in that of Lady Minto for the affectionate reception they had given them, and said he rejoiced in seeing their loyalty towards Her Majesty, whom we are all so proud and happy to serve. God Save the Queen concluded this short but pleasing reception. Before leaving the hall their Excellencies and their two charming daughters walked around and addressed themselves most amiably first to one and then to another of the interesting little children, all of whom conducted themselves with graceful simplicity.

The address, which was handsomely illuminated, was as follows:

To His Excellency The Right Honourable Sir Gilbert John Elliott Murray Kynnmound G. C. M. G. Earl of Minto and Viscount Melgund, etc., Governor-General of Canada.

Your Excellency: We deem ourselves privileged to be allowed to offer Your Excellency and Lady Minto a cordial welcome within our school, and we thank you with all our hearts for the opportunity so graciously afforded us.

We are but children and most of us young in years, yet we are versed enough in the history of the past and present to see in your Excellency the pride and champion of our land.

We are proud to be able to call ourselves loyal subjects of our Gracious Sovereign, love and reverence for whom is one of the lessons that strongly inculcated in our schools, therefore in the sincerity of our hearts we tender our homage to Your Excellency in whom we see the authority of our beloved Queen duly invested. Though many nations are represented in our school, we all blend in union and all happily dwell under the country's flag which we have hoisted to-day for the first time in Your Excellency's honor.

Were we to dwell longer on our sentiments we should transgress the limits becoming our lowliness, therefore we shall simply express the hope that your tour may be one of unalloyed pleasure and that Your Excellency and Lady Minto may long be spared to adorn your high positions and that every member of your family may enjoy health and happiness.

THE PUPILS OF
ST. JOACHIM SCHOOL,
Edmonton, Alta.

The welcome—recited by Miss Aloisia McKenney—was as follows:

The joy bells are ringing in our festive hall.

Ding dong! Welcome to our friends one and all.

The young are assembled with garlands of flowers

Adorned with gay vestures, and seated 'neath bowers.

Swell, swell the gay measures! roll trumpet and drum.

'Mid greetings of pleasure in splendor they come.

With love we're awaiting, the portal stands wide.

For Lord Minto and Lady, our joy and our pride.

Hark! ring, ring again with thrilling sound

Announce the glad tidings to all Around.

Let the crystal echoes distinctly hear,

Ring joyously, proudly, ring out rich and clear.

Ring wildly, ring gladly, convey love to our Queen.

By her Vice-Regent whom now we have seen.

Ring and express our deepest emotion

To our Queen, whom we love with tender devotion.

Ring again, and loudly let her praises swell.

By organ blast, trumpet, and clang of bell.

To her great lofty soul and spirit stroud

Pay the loving tribute to our song.

CHORUS.

Full of joy we gladly greet thee,

Welcome to our midst to-day.

We are honored thus to meet thee,

Listen to our happy lay.

Welcome, welcome here to-day.

In this song of purest feeling

Grateful hearts their love betray;

It is most, our joy revealing,

That we chant this merry lay,

Welcome, welcome here, today.

Let us raise our voices gaily

Singing forth a welcome lay

To our honored guests, whose presence

Gladens all our hearts to-day.

Ah! may still our welcome cheer thee,

When this hour hath passed away.

We who love thee and revere thee

Loudly sing and proudly say

MIGNONETTE.

Miss Marie Degagne.

Is not in beauty alone we may find

Purity, goodness, and wisdom combined.

Forms that are lightest are first to decay.

Hues that are brightest fade soonest away.

Then fearless let us now our homage pay

To our honored guests on this festive day.

Then gentle zephyrs our perfumes blow

To our Gracious Lady and Lord Minto.

IVY.

Miss Irene Kelly.

The old ivy faithful and ever true

You will not reject though of sombre hue.

Round our country's banner, let it ever twine,

And show that it we shall ne'er resign.

Offer you these flowers, the choicest

Their beautiful blossoms a secret

'Tis our love for Lord and Lady Minto.
Their Excellencies then drove to the maternity hospital where the sister in charge presented Lady Minto with a handsome bouquet of flowers, receiving her gracious thanks therefor.
From thence the party drove to the hospital, their Excellencies visiting the various wards. In one of the wards Lord Minto, to his great surprise, met an old soldier who had served under him in Egypt, seventeen years ago.

Shortly after noon their Excellencies accompanied by Lady Ellen and Lady Emily Elliott left Edmonton en route for St. Albert. Among the party were Capt. Graham, the Governor's aide-de-camp, Mr. Guise, the comptroller, and Mr. Elden, private secretary to the Governor-General, also Mr. Nil-lock of the C. P. R. Commissioner Perry with a number of the N. W.
M. P., under Major Griesbach, formed the escort.

The glorious weather so favorable for harvesting operations no doubt kept many from attending. Nevertheless by the time St. Albert was reached quite a number had assembled to greet the Queen's representative.
Immediately on his arrival three addresses were read to his Excellency in the central hall of the Bishop's Palace.
The one read by Bishop Grandin was in French and was the one by Mr.
Hebert. One from the English-speaking people read by Mr. J. T. J. Collison was as follows:

To His Excellency The Right Honorable Sir Gilbert John Elliott Murray Kynynmond G. C. M. G. Earl of Minto Viscount Melburn Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada.

Your Excellency: We the English-speaking people of this district gladly take the opportunity of expressing our appreciation of the honor you have done us in visiting St. Albert. We welcome you as the representative of Her Majesty Queen Victoria under whose benign rule have been enacted those just and wise laws which grant to all men true liberty that the subjects of any government ancient or modern have ever enjoyed.
Under these laws Canada has grown and prospered and has evolved out of a savage wilderness this very land in which we dwell. We believe that not even in that empire upon which the sun never sets is there to be found a people more contented and happy or more loyal to their country and their Queen than those who have the honor of welcoming you here to-day. We beg your Excellency again to accept the assurances of our loyalty and devotion and we trust that yourself and Lady Minto may carry with you pleasant memories of your visit to St. Albert.

Signed on behalf of committee
J. T. J. COLLISON, HARRY HOPE.

Slight reference having been made in two of the addresses to the subject of education, his Excellency, in his reply observed that he would place before the government the statements which had been made.

At the invitation of Bishop Grandin the vice-regal party then partook of a repast in the refectory. Amongst those present besides Bishop Grandin and Lord and Lady Minto were Messrs.
Collison, McInnes, Hope, Hebert, Brown and Perrat, members of the reception committee.

After the banquet an adjournment was made to the lately established seminary where a short address was read by Master Harry Woodhouse. It may be mentioned that among the first nine students of this institution no less than seven languages were spoken.

Proceeding to the convent of the Sisters of Charity the party were received by the Rev. Sister Superior Dandurand and conducted to the school room gaily and appropriately decorated for the occasion and which was shortly crowded by an overflowing audience. The following programme was then rendered:

Entry, Band of St. Albert.
Song, "Hark to the notes that ring."
Dialogue, "Welcome."
Song, "Where the Sugar Maple Grows."

Address, read by Master Gus Mc-Innes.

Duet, L'enfant et la rose.
Song, God Save the Queen, band.

The "Sugar Maple" went with a swing and the duet by Misses Lawson and Gibson was heartily applauded. Their Excellencies seemed much interested in some of the smaller muses and in the proceedings generally.
Both here and at the seminary the pupils did not fail to ask for the holiday usually granted upon such occasions.
Their petition was favorably entertained an extra day being added at the request of Lady Minto. The party then left about four o'clock. It was pleasant to know that before going both Lord and Lady Minto expressed themselves as being in an especial manner delighted with the warmth and cordiality of their reception.

The village was decorated with flags and crowds had assembled from all quarters to meet their Excellencies, who on their arrival were greeted with salutes de joie. The address of Father Grandin after conveying the loyal sentiments of his congregation thanked the Governor-General as the representative of the Queen for the liberty allowed the French-Catholics in Canada in language and religion. The work of the mission and the good done by it was touched upon. A portion of the address was addressed particularly to Lady Minto, stating that it was not the first evidence of her kindness that St. Albert had had, she having previously presented them with a handsome picture of the Queen. In his reply Lord Minto expressed great regret that his old friend Father Lacombe was not there. He had great esteem for the reverend father and for the good work he had done for Canada and the British flag. "Every Canadian should know and esteem Father Lacombe."

Lady Minto won the great esteem and respect of the reverend fathers by her fluent conversations in the French tongue, and by the interest she evidenced in the work of the church in its earlier days.

The address presented to their Excellencies by the students of the seminary bore unique inscriptions, in the way of God Save the Queen written in seven languages, Latin, German, French, Cree, Polish, English and Little Russian.

During the visit the party visited the old church built by Father Lacombe himself, forty-five years ago.
The scenery from the high hill on which the mission buildings stand was greatly admired by Lady Minto who frequently alighted, during the course of the walk, to its beauty.

Her Excellency went personally to all the names and thanked them for the trouble they had gone to to welcome her, and to thank and costume so many children.

On the bridge at St. Albert on their return trip, the vice-regal party halted. Lord Minto raised his broad scandalo, and the arms of the escort flashed out in the "present"—a final farewell to the friends gathered on the hill above.

At the upper ferry, near Walter's mill, his Excellency, on the return journey to his car, christened the new dredge of the Victoria-Alberta gold and platinum dredging proprietary, a report of which ceremony appears elsewhere.

Yesterday their Excellencies and party, accompanied by John H. Wilson, manager of the Imperial Bank, Strathcona, concluded their visit by a chicken shoot through the country in the vicinity of Strathcona. The party had a very successful day, returning in the evening with a bag of some 35 birds.
Their special train pulled out for the south about 10 o'clock last night.

Sergeant Arthur Lindsay, of Strath-cona's Horse, who has been awarded the "V. C." for rescuing a wounded trooper in the face of heavy fire at North Station on August 5th, outlined at Calgary as a private and is son of Major A. J. Lindsay, of Edmonton.

The Chinese minister at Washington has received an Imperial edict conferring on Mr. Tung Chang extraordinary power for the complete settlement of the Chinese trouble. It gives him authority to make any terms according to his own discretion without referring them to the emperor.

THE WEATHER.

All this week has been simply perfect. Not a drop of rain has fallen, not a degree of frost has been felt.
The days have been warm, with bright sunshine, some days almost too warm for comfort. With such weather the remainder of the harvesting is being rapidly completed and threshing will soon be under full swing. To-day is warm, sunny, and with a slight breeze blowing.

THRESHING.

The following threshing machines have been brought to town, among others, for this season's work:

Sixteen horse power traction engine traction with cyclone stacker and self-feeder, for S. A. Leduc; a 25 horse power engine with cyclone stacker and self-their shops. An 18 horse power Advance is at the Edmonton machine shops, ready to be taken out by its owners, Krump Bros., of Riviere Que Barre. Another 20 horse power engine was sent down to the Fort two weeks ago. A small engine of Angus McDonald's is undergoing repairs at the machine shops. Mr. Browner is having a plow/factor to-day of his thresher-crowded yards.

CHRISTENING THE DREDGE.

On their return from St. Albert Wednesday the Governor-General's party, on the invitation of Mr. Macfarlane, director of the Victoria-Albert gold and platinum dredging syndicate, were entertained at the company's new dredge now nearing completion at Walters' mill. During the visit her Excellency performed the interesting ceremony of christening the new dredge, which was done by breaking a bottle of wine upon its bows, accompanied by the magic words: "I name thee Minto."

The dredge was prettily decorated, with tanning and evergreens, and from the stow tender Otter, moored nearby, the band decorated selections during the afternoon. Their Excellencies received in a shady corner, prepared in their honor. Many guests were present. During the afternoon refreshments were served, the viands being most tastefully and temptingly prepared and served.

Shortly after 6 their Excellencies and party withdrew. The band struck up the national anthem, which was heartily taken up and sung by the assembled guests, until the vice-regal party and their military escort disappeared down the winding road.

NEW ST. JOACHIM'S CHURCH.

The new church of St. Joachims when completed promises to be one of the handsomest buildings in town. The imposing steeple, 108 feet high, is now almost finished. Another steeple will be erected from each front corner of the edifice, running up to half the height of the main pinnacle. All of these will be sheathed with metal.
Bishop Groulx on his recent trip presented the church with a stained glass window. Another window valued at $100 has been presented by C. Gallagher, in honor of Father Fouquet. It is Father Leduc's ambition to have all the windows in the church, some sixteen in all, of stained glass. The interior will be finished in metallic ceiling.

CHILD LOST AND FOUND.

Battleford Star: A short time ago a party started across the river, from Prince Albert berrying. In the course of the afternoon a little boy named James McBride was missed; and they searched and searched, and the sun went down. It rained began to rain.
Still no boy. So they re-crossed the river and raised the alarm, and the whole town turned out. All night the search went on, and all next day and the three following nights and days and still no trace of the lost one.
Raining all the time. When hope was beginning to fail, the child was discovered in a tangle of brushwood by William McKay, lying on his back, with his feet in a pool of water, and exhausted by hunger and exposure. The boy was very feeble, but after a few days nursing came out all right. He was found about a mile and a half from where he was missed.

CONJURING CREEK.

Splendid harvest weather. Harvest will soon be over.

J. G. McKeown, who came up from Ontario last spring to settle in the Conjurung Creek district, but after arriving here, decided to settle near Leaside, has sold out and returned east.

Binder twine seems scarce here this fall.

Humble school started Monday week with Mr. T. Buckell, (whose home is in the Creek, but has been studying at Strathcona) as teacher.

The picnic held last Monday at Mr. Wilkinson's farm proved a great success, there being the largest gathering ever met before here, people from all along the Creek being there. Outdoor games of every description were indulged in. The Creek baseball team played admirably. Mr. T. Buckell, of Strathcona, figured most prominently in the game. As soon as evening came and supper was over the music in Mr. Wilkinson's large house started up for dancing, and was kept up until 5 a. m. Tuesday morning except for a quiet game of two after midnight supper.

Rev. Brunelle, Baptist minister, spent last week amongst us preaching Sunday evening at Mr. Hamilton's residence.

Roads are drying up nicely.

The grain this year is of excellent quality.

Sept. 10, 1900.

MANITOBA WEATHER AND CROPS.

Winnipeg Commercial, Sept. 15th: The weather was more favorable this week and farmers were enabled to resume the work of stacking and threshing for short time. On Thursday, however, rain was again reported from some sections, and a prolonged general rain, accompanied by high winds, prevailed on Friday. The temperature with this last rain is low, with indications that it will be followed by frost to night. Present indications point to a No. 4 hard crop for most of the wheat of this season.

PRINCE ALBERT CONSERVATIVES.

The Saskatchewan Herald, conservative, says: The conservatives of Prince Albert held a convention on the 4th inst., at which they nominated Dr. Spence as their candidate at the coming election. As they were evidently in a hurry to get a nominee, for the letter inviting the co-operation of Bartleford was not received until late on Saturday evening and the convention was summoned for Tuesday. This end of the district was therefore ruled out of taking any part in the important preliminary steps in an election contest.

Letters received by mail say the meeting was harmonious in the selection of Dr. Spence.

MAJOR LAURIE INVALIDED.

Letters received from Major R. C. Laurie, of the Strathcona's, dated McLeod river hospital, July 27, say that was his 37th day in bed with enteric fever; says the Saskatchewan Herald, that he was not allowed to sit up; that this was the first time he had been permitted to write and that he was doing so propped up in bed with pillows; and that he was still strictly denied to guard against after complications. When well enough to leave hospital he will be invalided, but whether home direct or by way of England was not known at the time of writing.

CROPS IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA.

Crops in Southern Alberta, at MacLeod, Pincher Creek and Cardston settlements are excellent and well advanced. Nearly all cut and threshing in progress. Considerable fall wheat in Pincher Creek and Cardston districts. Large yields and magnificent sample. Been grown here on small scale for many years. A pronounced success. One man has 14,000 bushels. Fall has been dry and fine, except the storm late in August, and most of the grain cut before them, but raining at Pincher Creek on Thursday night and Friday.

BRYAN'S BIG BOAST.

When reminding his subscription Mr. W. S. Cook, of South Omaha, and at one time of Edmonton, where he was interested extensively in gold dredging, says: "We could not be without the Bulletin. We notice you had an inch of snow, at the same time we had 95 above. Have had lots of hot weather but plenty of rain and an abundant crop. Nebraska corn crop will run 300,000,000 bushels this year. This country is in good condition, but we are right in the midst of our yellow dog political campaign and the country suffers from the agitation. If we can elect McKinley, we can continue our friendly policy towards Britain; if Bryan is elected he declares he will go immediately to South Africa and tell Britain to let loose and that means something on the Imperialistic line—more war with what is now and would be a friendly nation. Hoping this may never happen."

The scrip commissioners have had a York boat fitted up at Prince Albert to carry themselves and outfit down the river of Cumberland and the Pas, where they will be engaged issuing scrip until about the 15th October. They will then go out by way of Winnipeg, and back by rail, laying over about the latter end of October at Saskatoon to take evidence relating to claims of rebellion scouts. When they are through there, they will go back to Prince Albert and will proceed to Montreal lake, to finish up the issue of scrip in that district.

THE CALGARY OUTRAGE.

The following is the evidence of Eugene McLennand, of Calgary, given in the Calgary police court, in the case of robbery and attempted murder, wherein he was the victim. Geo. H. Williams, arrested as one of the would-be murderers, was charged with the crime. McLennand's sworn story of the cold-blooded affair was:

I have lived in Calgary a little over a year. I have known the defendant since August the 22nd. I first saw him at the C. P. R. station. Had a conversation with him. I did not know his name then. He told me that night that his name was Winters. I understood him, so I saw him again on the evening of the 29th at the C. P. R. station after No. 2 had gone out. I asked him if he had been west and he said that he had gone back to the ranch at Macleod. I saw him again the next morning for a minute or two at the corner outside the Royal Hotel. I had no conversation with him then. Saw him again about 11:30 at night at the corner of the C. P. R. restaurant. I had on the previous evening given him two American five dollar bills for a Canadian ten dollar bill. The accused saw that I had more than $10 on Thursday night. While chatting with the accused he proposed we should go for a walk. We walked eastward to the Elbow river bridge. When at the bridge I said we had gone far enough and had better go up town. He said we might as well cross the bridge and walk round by the road. We crossed the bridge and turned to the left into the road, leading up to the town. When he got to the sidewalk he said he was thirsty and was going down to the river to get a drink. He asked me whether there was a path, this was the Elbow river. This conversation took place on the sidewalk which crosses the traffic bridge. I said there was a path and that we could go down there and get a drink. We walked down the road which leads to the Bow river until we got nearly to the bank. I was suddenly seized from behind, and thrown on my back and one of the fellows (Mr. Williams must have been joined by another man) sat on my breast and put his hand on my mouth and eyes. One of them turned through my pockets. They then turned me over on my face and tied my hands and feet and gagged me by putting something in my mouth and tying it with a piece of string. They carried me up the river a little way to where there is a clump of bushes on the bank, and threw me in the river. I floated down the stream which is very fast there and landed on the beach. They came down and caught hold of me a second time. They tied my feet again. (My feet had been tied and I had managed to get them loose) and threw me in again. I then floated down a little further and managed to get my head out of the water. They then came down the third time and tied my feet again with a rope. I think it was, and threw me in the third time. This time, however, they tied my mouth for the gag had got out and I had started to yell. The taller of the dark man made the remark to Williams: "He's got the gag out of his mouth let's run." I remember struggling in the water for a long time trying to get out. I don't remember anything more until the following day at the police station. I think my feet were tied with string, and afterwards with rope. I had $150 in my possession when this attack was made upon me—$150 in the inside pocket of my coat, $6 in my vest and some change in my trousers pocket. The $150 and the change had been taken out before I was gagged. I have no doubt but that the accused is the man, not the slightest.

John Soules, laundryman, swore to having seen the accused talking to McLennand on the day of the attack. Constable Fraser sworn: Was on duty from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. on Friday morning. McLennand on Friday morning met McLennand on the east side of the Elbow river. Constable Walton was with me. McLennand was wet and his hands were tied with bootlaces (produced). There was a string in his mouth also a bootlace tied to the back of his neck. We cut the string at the back of his neck and it fell off. I thought he had been thrown in the river. He was saying to himself: "Throw him in Jack, the water's deep." He was dazed. I took him in the rig and brought him to the police station.

Mr. Sifton for the prosecution, stated that this completed the case for the prosecution. Mr. Nolan, for the accused, said that as the magistrate had no power to try the case there would be no objection in his calling evidence for the defence. He might say, however, that he would in a few days be in a position to prove that the accused could not have been concerned in the offence as he was 600 miles away when it was committed. This could be proved to the satisfaction of a judge and jury when the case came up for trial.

The accused was then committed to stand his trial at the next court of competent criminal jurisdiction.

The committee of the patriotic fund are prepared to receive and deal with applications on behalf of Canadian volunteers who have returned to Canada. It is suggested that officers commanding corps in Canada, and several companies of soldiers' wives leagues will be good enough to communicate at once with the secretary of the patriotic fund.

THE SCRIP COMMISSION AT ST. PAUL DE METIS.

The scrip commissioners were at St. Paul de Metis on the 13th, having then issued 53 scrip with, about another 50 to issue. Of those given out 12 were money and the balance land. The land scrips being held very high by the half-breeds, and the buyers did not purchase. "Shot" has offered to take the commission from La Biche to Athabasca Landing in a boat. La Biche river is high and he says he can take them through in five days. It is probable that they will get that way. The commissioners may be back to Edmonton by the 5th October, or not later than the 12th.

Fish have been very plentiful at Lac la Biche this summer and the Indians have had all they wanted and more. Fish just as numerous as they were years ago. Pretty good for five years protection of a run-down lake. There is a straight road from Lac la Biche to St. Paul de Metis, by way of Floating Stone lake, the commission take that road and expect to make the trip in three days.
